Hats, Hats, Hats.

THE subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he is now receiving his assortment of Hats for the spring trade. With his stock now on hand, and those he will receive by the next arrivals from Boston, New York and Philadelphia, his assortment will not be inferior to any ever offered in this city, and he pledges himself that they shall be sold at prices corresponding with the present damaged state of the times. He also takes this opportunity of tendering his sincere thanks for the very liberal patronage he has received for the last seven years, and assures his friends that no exertion on his part will prevent his meriting a continuance of the same patronage.
